2 INTRODUCTION

- 2.1 This Manual provides an outline of the types of information records held by Sanus.
- 2.2 The Manual explains how a person can submit requests for access to the information held by Sanus and its subsidiaries under PAIA.
- 2.3 PAIA was enacted on 03 February 2000, thereby giving effect to the constitutional right of access to any information held by the State and private entities, which information may be required by an individual/other for the exercise or protection of any rights.
- 2.4 Where a request is made in terms of PAIA, the body (Sanus) to which the request is made is obliged to release the information, except where PAIA expressly provides that the information shall or shall not be released.
- 2.5 PAIA sets out the requisite procedural issues attached to each request for information under PAIA.

3 PURPOSE OF THIS MANUAL

- 3.1 This Manual is intended to foster a culture of transparency and accountability, by granting access to information, which may be required to exercise or protect any and all of the rights of the people of South Africa.
- 3.2 In order to promote effective governance of private bodies, it is necessary to ensure that members of the public are educated to understand their rights under PAIA, which will empower them to exercise their rights in respect of public and private bodies.
- 3.3 However, section 9 of PAIA recognises that a right to access information cannot be unlimited and that such limitations on access are permissible to the extent that they are reasonable and justifiable in an open and democratic society, as envisaged by s36 of the Constitution. These limitations include, but are not limited to the following:
 - 3.3.1 limitations aimed at the reasonable protection of privacy;
 - 3.3.2 commercial confidentiality; and
 - 3.3.3 effective, efficient and good governance; and
 - 3.3.4 in a manner which balances that right with any other rights.
