4. Contracts for Difference (CFDs) and their risk classification

WITHOUT PREJUDICE TO ANY OTHER PROVISION CONTAINED IN THIS AGREEMENT, YOU HEREBY REPRESENT AND WARRANT THAT YOU UNDERSTAND AND ACKNOWLEDGE THE FOLLOWING:

4.1. CFDs are complex Financial Instruments which carry a high level of risk and are not appropriate for investors who do not possess the appropriate level of knowledge and experience to deal in them. You acknowledge and agree that you have read and understood our Risk Disclosure.

4.2. CFDs are OTC derivatives and are bilateral contracts entered into between two counterparties. When you enter into any Order to buy or sell a CFD on our Electronic Trading Platform, you trade solely with us as your intermediary and the Liquidity Provider as your counterparty. The Liquidity Provider is the principal to each trade that you may enter with us (acting as your intermediary).

4.3. When you trade in an OTC derivative contract such as an CFD trade, the value and payment obligations in relation to these are determined with reference to the price movement of an underlying Financial Instrument or reference point. As such, when entering into a buy or sell Order for a CFD you speculate on a movement of the price of the underlying Financial Instrument. The risk of loss is exacerbated in the case in which Leverage is used for our trading CFDs. The effects of trading with Leverage are as set out in Clause 6 and in our Leverage Policy.

4.4 You agree and accept that, when you enter into a CFD trade, you do not become an owner of the underlying Financial Instrument and shall not receive physical delivery of such Financial Instrument. As an owner of a CFD you will not have the right of attending and/or voting at any general meeting of the issuer of the Financial Instrument to which your CFD corresponds to. Similarly, you will not have a right to receive dividends, coupons or any other cash distributions made to the owners of such Financial Instruments. However, as set out in the Execution Policy, we will make positive or negative cash adjustments to your Account depending on the type of position that you hold in the relevant CFD.

4.5. The fact that OTC contracts, such as CFDs, are bilateral contracts entered into between two counterparties also means that, when you open a position with us, you must also close the position with us. You acknowledge, agree and accept that you are not able to close the position with any other counterparty. The Liquidity Provider will, at all times, be your principal, with Sanus acting as your intermediary.

4.6 The execution venue which we provide and through which you can trade with us, is not in the form of an Exchange.

4.7 OTC derivative contracts such as CFDs are not centrally cleared by a clearing house. This means that when you enter into a derivatives contract, the person that you will have legal rights against under the derivatives contract is the Liquidity Provider, as your counterparty under the contract. As such, you take the credit risk, being defined as the risk of failure or non-payment by the Liquidity Provider.

5. Capacity and Client categorization

5.1. The Liquidity Provider acts as Market Maker, meaning that it quotes both Bid Prices and Ask Prices. The Liquidity Provider is your counterparty in all Transactions and trades which you enter into with us (as your intermediary). We will act as your intermediary, with the Liquidity Provider as your principal.

5.2. You represent that you act as principal and not as agent (or trustee) on behalf of someone else. Unless expressly approved by Sanus in advance writing, you may not act as an agent or trustee on behalf of someone else.

5.3. Investment Services and Activities and Regulated Markets Law: Unless we specifically advise otherwise, we will always categorize you as a Retail Client for the purpose of the Investment Services and Activities and Regulated Markets Law. You are entitled to certain Client protections stipulated in the Investment Services and Activities and Regulated Markets Law, including your ability to participate in the Investor Compensation Fund, available in the Investor Compensation Fund Document.

5.4. In cases where you request that we categorize you as a Professional Client instead of a Retail Client, we may either: (a) allow you to be re-categorized as per your request in respect of any part or all of your dealings with us, subject to any documentation and other evidence as we may require in order to verify your eligibility with respect of such re-categorization and on such terms as we may notify you of upon acceptance of your request or (b) we may, if we do not agree to re-categorize you as per your request, refuse to enable this re-categorisation.

5.5. If you do request such re-categorisation and we agree to such re-categorization, the protection afforded to you by certain Applicable Laws and Regulations may be substantially reduced. You hereby represent that prior to making a request for re-categorization to the higher Professional Client category, you have read and understood the loss of protection which this entails.

5.6. In our implementation of relevant guidance notes issued by regulatory authorities, we will treat you either as Retail Client or, if requested, as a Professional Client.

5.7. We may use other members of our Group or third parties in undertaking work on our behalf with respect to Services we provide to you pursuant to this Agreement. The work undertaken on our behalf by such service providers may indicatively include execution of marketing campaigns, gathering and processing of Client information, specialized software and IT services or other Client support services. These Service Providers may be located within or outside the European Union. Where we choose to co-operate with such Service Providers, we shall do so in accordance with the Applicable Laws and Regulations. We remain at all times responsible to you for the Services provided to you, in accordance with the terms of this Agreement and irrespective of any work that may be undertaken on our behalf by such Service Providers. Except where there is a Force Majeure Event, we are responsible for the conduct of work of such Service providers in relation to the work and activities they undertake on our behalf. We shall use reputable and competent Service Providers and have in place controls as to the selection and monitoring of the performance of the work executed on our behalf by such Service Providers.

10. Placing and execution of Orders

Transmission of Instructions

10.1. Sanus shall agree to receiving instructions that have been transmitted only through the Trading Platform(s) or other electronic means determined by the Company at the outset of the Agreement. Sanus shall, under certain circumstances, accept instructions by telephone or in person, provided that it is fully satisfied of (i) the Client’s identity; and (ii) clarity of instructions - for further details read the “Recording of telephone calls and record keeping” section of the Agreement below. Sanus shall, at its discretion, confirm the instruction(s) received by the Client if it deems that to be necessary.

10.2. The Client accepts that the Sanus bears no responsibility for any instructions that may be misinterpreted due to a technical or other error.

10.3. If margin is available in a Client Trading Account, the Liquidity Provider shall execute all instructions, subject to any restrictions included in these Terms and Conditions. Sanus accepts no liability for any loss, cost, claim, demand or expense arising from any instruction sent by error.

10.4. The Client accepts that unless he/ she informs Sanus in writing regarding the termination of the Authorized Person, Sanus shall continue accepting instructions from such Authorised Person and such instructions shall: (i) be valid; and (ii) fully commit the Client. In case the Client needs to terminate the Authorized Person, the Client shall provide the Company with a written notice of 2 (two) Business Days.

10.5. The Client accepts that, once the Liquidity Provider receives instruction(s) for trading Financial Instruments, such instructions are final and cannot be cancelled or deleted, except where Sanus and the Liquidity Provider expressly agree, in their sole and unfettered discretion, to such cancellation or deletion.

10.6. Quotes the Liquidity Provider shall, at all times, subject to instances outside its control, transmit Quotes through the Trading Platform(s) that are executable, according to the Client's instructions.

On the basis of the Agreement, the Liquidity Provider shall determine, at its sole and unfettered discretion, the Quotes that are executable and appear through the Trading Platform(s).

The Client shall disregard any Bid Prices and/or Ask Prices quoted through any other system and/or tool, other than the Electronic Trading Platforms (MetaTrader4).

The Client accepts that the Liquidity Provider is solely responsible for determining the validity of the Quotes at any given time; therefore, Sanus reserves the right to send the Client a re-quote, including but not limited to situations of high market volatility, if the former deems that to be necessary. Under the above-mentioned circumstances, the Client may either accept or reject the re-quote.

10.7. Order Types The Client may send instructions for either: an instant execution Order; and/or a Pending Order.

In terms of Pending Orders, the Client may send an instruction for:

Buy Limit: an Order to buy a CFD at a specified price lower than the current market price.

Sell Limit: an Order to sell a CFD at a specified price higher than the current market price.

Buy Stop: an Order to buy a CFD; the price is set above the current market price and is triggered when the market price reaches the buy stop instruction.

Sell Stop: an Order to sell a CFD; the price is set lower than the current market price and is triggered when the market price reaches the sell stop instruction.

It should be noted that a Stop Loss and/or Take Profit may be attached to an instant execution or Pending Order.

For further details regarding the Order Types above, please refer to the Execution Policy

It should be noted that the status of an Order is available, at all times, through the Trading Platform(s). If the Client is unable to access the Trading Platform(s) he/she can be notified of the status of an Order by contacting the Dealing Department at dealing@ezinvest.com.

10.8. The Client accepts that under certain trading conditions, including but not limited to situations of high market volatility or illiquidity, it may be impossible for Sanus to execute Pending Orders at the Declared Price; under such conditions, the Company reserves the right to execute the Order or modify the opening and/or closing price to provide the next available price. It should be noted that: (i) if a Pending Order is executed at the next available price and as a result (ii) the Stop Loss and/or Take Profit instructions are no longer within the levels referred to in the contract specifications - the Stop Loss and/ or Take Profit instructions shall be cancelled.

10.9. The Client understands that if conditions described in this paragraph materialize, a Stop Loss instruction attached to a Pending Order may not limit the Client's potential loss to the intended amount given that Sanus may be unable to execute at the Declared Price.

Terms and Conditions – Client Agreement

10.10. The Company, at margin level of less than 50% (fifty percent), has the discretion to begin closing positions starting from the most unprofitable one at market price.

10.11. The Client accepts that Sanus bears no responsibility for the download, installation and use of any trading related solutions such as expert advisors or trailing stops; if it comes to the attention of the Company that the Client is using any such solutions the former has the right to terminate the provision of investment and ancillary services to the latter, under the 'Termination and Default' section of the Agreement, in order to protect the orderly operation of the Trading Platform(s).

10.12. The Client should bear in mind that in terms of volume Financial Instruments, traded through the Trading Platform(s), these are measured in lots and the minimum volume varies depending on the security. More information can be found at <https://world.ezinvest.com/trading/trading-instruments/>.

10.13. The Client shall set the leverage, which may range from 1:1 to 1:200, during the Account opening process and he/she may send a request to amend the leverage level, at any time, directly online at dealing@ezinvest.com. It should be noted that Sanus shall monitor the leverage applied to Client's positions, at all times; the Company reserves the right to decrease the leverage depending on the Client's trade volume. For further details, please refer to the Leverage Policy. Sanus reserves the right to amend, at any time, the contract specifications of such Financial Instruments, available online at <https://world.ezinvest.com/trading/trading-instruments/>, in order to respond to a number of situations including but not limited to specific market conditions. The Client is liable for ensuring that he/she remains informed, at all times, regarding the latest contract specifications.

10.14. Rollovers, Interest A daily financing charge may apply to each CFD Open Position at the closing of Sanus trading day as regard to that CFD. If such financing charge is applicable, it will either be requested to be paid by Client directly to Sanus or it will be paid by Sanus to Client, depending on the type of CFD and the nature of the position Client holds. The method of calculation of the financing charge varies according to the type of CFD to which it applies.

Moreover, the amount of the financing charge will vary as it is linked to current interest rates. The financing charge will be credited or debited (as appropriate) to Client's Account on the next trading day following the day to which it relates.

10.15. Sanus reserves the right to change the method of calculating the financing charge, the financing rates and/or the types of CFDs to which the financing charge applies. For certain types of CFDs, a commission is payable by Client to open and close CFD positions. Such commission payable will be debited from Client's Account at the same time as Sanus opens or closes the relevant CFD.

10.16. Changes in our swap interest rates and calculations shall be at our own discretion and without notice. Clients need to always check our Website for the current rates charged. Rates may change quickly due to market conditions (changes in interest rates, volatility, liquidity etc.) and due to various risk related matters that are at the Company's sole discretion.

10.17 Any open CFD transaction held by Client at the end of the trading day, as determined by Sanus, or over the weekend, shall automatically be rolled over to the next Business Day so as to avoid an automatic close and physical settlement of the transaction.

10.18. Client acknowledges that when rolling over such transactions to the next Business Day, a premium may be either added or subtracted from Client's Account with respect to such transaction. The MT4 platform calculates overnight rollover at 21h00 GMT and the rollover charge/credit is debited or credited to and from the Trading Account. Example: If you sell 1 lot EURUSD, you will pay rollover costs on 100.000 Euro, which at the current rate would be $0.017.

10.19 The future contracts on which CFDs are based have an expiration date, and clients will be able to close their CFD positions until this date.

Any positions still open on the expiring contracts will be liquidated at market price by Sanus on the expiration date after 23h00 GMT+3. Approximately 3-5 days before expiring, a new CFD based on the next future contract will begin trading.

During this period, no new positions can be opened in the old CFD contract.

Clients can request via email for their Open Positions on any expiring contract to be rolled over on to the next contract. The rollover procedure is executed on the expiration date between 21h00 – 23h00 GMT+3 and rollover requests can be accepted at any time before the procedure takes place. Based on the price difference of the expiring contract versus the new contract at the time of the rollover, Sanus will either apply a fee or issue a rebate on the Client's Account based on the following calculation:

- Buy Trade Rollover = (Old Bid - New Ask) x Lot Size x Position Size
- Sell Trade Rollover = (New Bid - Old Ask) x Lot Size x Position Size

For example: a request for a rollover on VIX future contract with the following prices will have the following charges/rebates (1 lot = 1000 units):

Old Bid	Old Ask	New Bid	New Ask
28.4	28.45	30.5	30.55

- 1 lot Buy Trade Rollover = (28.4 - 30.55) x 1000 x 1 = - $2150 (fee)
- 1 lot Sell Trade Rollover = (30.5 - 28.45) x 1000 x 1 = $2050 (rebate)

All closing, expiring and new contract open dates are being published on the Notifications section of our Website. Specific contract details and dates regarding the previous, current and next contract can be found in the asset specifications section of our Website.

10.20 On Wednesday at 21h00 GMT, overnight rollover fees are multiplied by 3 (three) in order to compensate for the upcoming weekend. The premium amount shall be determined by Sanus from time to time, in Sanus's sole and unfettered discretion. Clients hereby authorize Sanus to add or subtract the premium, in accordance with the applicable rate thereto, each day at the time of collection specified on the Trading Platform for each individual instrument, as applicable.

11. Currency

12. Limitations on acceptance of Orders

It should be noted that the Company reserves the right to reject such verbal instructions when the operator of the Dealing Department is not Satisfied with the Client's identity or clarity of instructions; under such circumstances, Sanus reserves the right to request from the Client to transmit an instruction through another means. The Client accepts that at times of excessive transaction flow

There might be some delay in connecting over the telephone with a member of the Dealing Department, especially when there are important market announcements.

12.5. You accept that if Sanus were to refuse the execution of an Order, under the 'Limitations on acceptance of Orders' section herein, your obligations under the Agreement shall remain unaffected.

13. Corporate actions

This can be done through a cash adjustment and/or position adjustment in the Account before or after the date set for the Corporate Action ("Effective Date").

13.2. If a Corporate Action occurs in relation to a Financial Instrument which is underlying any CFD Open Position which you have with us, or any insolvency event occurs in relation to any issuer of a Financial Instrument to which any of your CFD position relate to, we may exercise any of the following rights, provided that in doing so we shall act reasonably and shall use our reasonable efforts to preserve the value of your Open Positions or Orders:

- i) make the relevant adjustments in your Account to restore the Account's Transactions in the underlying Financial Instruments which were (post the Effective date) or are to be (prior to the Effective date) affected by a Corporate Action. Such adjustment shall be executed at the then-current market prices which may be different than the Prices at which the original Transactions were executed.

13.3. Where you hold either a Short Position or a Long Position in an underlying Financial Instrument which had been subject to a split or reverse split, we may proceed with a position adjustment in order to make the necessary adjustment to the Price and the trade size of the Financial Instrument to reflect the split or reverse split economic effect at the Account. In this case, we may close-out the position under a new underlying Financial Instrument with the adjusted Price to reflect the effect of the split or reverse split.

13.4. In case where you hold a Long Position, the underlying Financial Instrument of which has been subject to a split, we may proceed with a positive adjustment to your Account. 13.6. We reserve the right to reduce Leverage ratios for CFDs in Financial Instruments that may be the subject of actual or anticipated Corporate Actions, in order to address likely market and Financial Instruments volatility. Where possible we will give you notice of such change so as to enable you to take the action you consider appropriate.

13.7. The abovementioned measure may be applied on one or more Accounts, pre or post the effective date of the Corporate Action, within a reasonable timeframe and in doing so we shall use reasonable efforts to minimize the disruption of the use of the Accounts.

17. Client money

17.1. We shall treat money held by Sanus on your behalf as Client money.

17.2. We treat money received from you, or held by us on your behalf, separate from corporate funds.

17.3. Sanus keeps and maintains books and accounting records of the money held on behalf of its Clients.

17.4. The provisions in this Agreement related to Client money are subject to the terms and conditions of the banks and credit institutions with which such funds are held and through which such funds are transferred.

17.5. We co-operate with various credit institutions and payment providers. A complete list of these can be found through our website.

17.6. We do not charge fees for deposits or withdrawals of money onto or out of your Account. It remains, however, your responsibility to be aware at all times, of the transfer fees and/or any other fees and charges which are charged by the bank, payment service providers and any other service providers which you is for the transfer of funds to and from us.

17.7 Where we are faced with a chargeback from any financial institution, which chargeback relates to your trading activity with us, we shall be entitled to provide such financial institution with evidence of the client relationship as may be necessary in order for us to demonstrate to the relevant financial institution the existence of a trading relationship and relevant trading activity between us and you.

17.8. When you transfer money to your Account with us, the time taken for the funds to appear on your Account depends on the method used for transferring such funds. Deposits and withdrawals of funds can only be made to and from accounts in your name.

17.9. We will endeavour to hold Client money on your behalf with authorized credit institutions. The funds will be kept in bank accounts clearly segregated from Sanus's own funds. Funds deposited may be kept in one or more omnibus accounts with any authorized regulated credit institution.

17.10 We deposit Clients' money held on behalf of our Clients in an account and/or accounts opened with a bank, or EMI, or receive funds through payment processing companies, provided that we have exercised all due care, skill and diligence in the selection, appointment and periodic review of such banks and payment processing companies and of the arrangements for the holding and safekeeping of Clients' money which they have in place. With regards to the deposit of Client's funds, in the event we do not deposit Client's funds with a bank, we exercise all due care, skill and diligence in the selection, appointment and periodic review of the credit institution, where the funds are placed and the arrangement for the holding of those funds. We shall take into account the expertise and reputation of the bank as well as the legal and regulatory requirements or market practices related to the holding of Clients' money that could adversely affect the protection afforded to the Clients' money. We apply the same principles in the selection of payment processing companies we accept to receive Clients' funds from.

17.11 We shall take all necessary measures in order to ensure that any Clients' money deposited with a bank is identifiable separately from the cash belonging to Sanus by means of differently titled accounts on the books of the bank(s) or other equivalent measures that achieve the same level of protection. Similarly, as per the requirements of the Applicable Laws and Regulations, on receiving any Clients' funds, we shall promptly place those funds into one or more accounts denoted as "clients account". We apply the same principles for payment processing companies.

17.12. Where necessary, we shall apply diversification as to where Clients' money is held, through the maintenance of bank accounts with several third-party banks.

17.13 The Company may hold Clients' money in omnibus accounts with financial and credit institutions. In this respect, you are hereby warned that there is a risk of loss emanating from the use of omnibus accounts in financial or credit institutions. In such case it may not be possible to distinguish if the particular Clients funds are held by a certain financial or credit institution. Omnibus accounts may also hold other types of risks including legal, liquidation risk, haircut risk, third party risk etc.

17.14 In the event of insolvency or any other analogous proceedings in relation to a financial or credit institution (including payment processing company) where Clients' funds are held, Sanus (on behalf of the Client) and/or the Client may only have an unsecured claim against the financial or credit institution, and the Client will be exposed to the risk that the money received by Sanus from the financial or credit institution, is insufficient to satisfy the claims of the Client with claims in respect of the account. Sanus does not accept any liability or responsibility for any resulting losses so, in the unlikely event of default, the proportionate loss shall affect all of Sanus's Client's monies held in omnibus accounts with the financial or credit institution. To mitigate this risk, Clients' funds are being held in few reputable financial or credit institutions following rigorous due diligence and credit risk assessment and constant exposure monitoring is taking place.

17.15. You agree that we shall not be liable for any default of any counterparty, bank, payment processing company, custodian or other entity which holds money on your behalf or with or through whom transactions may be conducted.

17.16. Sanus will not be liable for loss suffered by you in connection to your funds held by us, unless such loss directly arises from our gross negligence, wilful default, or fraud.

18. Withdrawals

18.1 Funds may be withdrawn by you from your Account, provided that such funds are not being utilized for margin purposes or have otherwise become owing to us. Once your withdrawal request is approved, your withdrawal request will be processed by us and sent for execution to the same bank, credit card or other source from which the funds were debited or as we, our absolute discretion determine, as soon as possible.

18.2 Withdrawals will only be made at source in your name. Note that some banks and credit card companies may take time to process payment especially in currencies where a correspondent bank is involved in the transaction.

18.3 If you request a withdrawal from your account and we cannot comply with it without closing some part of your Open Positions, we will not comply with the request until you have closed sufficient positions to allow you to make the withdrawal.

18.4 When a withdrawal is requested from your Account, we reserve the right to be entitled to demand any transaction fees connected to the deposit and withdrawal payment, in the event that there is no “significant trading volume” in your Account.

The following table is an example but by no means limiting to what can be considered by us as “significant trading volume”:

You further consent and agree that it is not requisite Sanus to explicitly inform you before or when your Trading Accounts are to be categorized as an Inactive Account or charged the Inactivity Fee.

You further agree that any Account that is inactive for a period of 6 (twelve) months (180 days) will be considered as dormant (“Dormant Account”). Once categorized as Dormant Account, a dormancy fee (“Dormancy Fee”) will apply, which fee will be the greater of USD200 and 3% (three percent) of the Balance. The Dormancy Fee will be charged either until the Balance has been reduced to zero, or your Account is reactivated. We will not take any additional funds from any registered payment methods, as this only applies to funds within your Balance.

We reserve the right to charge the Inactivity Fee or Dormancy Fee for any month in which we had the right to charge it but did not do so.

19.3. For the reactivation of an Inactive Account and or a Dormant Account, you must contact Sanus. The Inactive Account and/or Dormant Account will then be reactivated subject to, if required, up-to-date Client identification documentation to be provided to Sanus.

19.4. Where a Client has more than 1 (one) Account and at least one of his Accounts is active, then no Inactivity Fee will be applied, even where one or more of the Client’s other Accounts has met the inactivity criteria.
